

Yuko Sato

University of Missouri
Department of Political Science
307 Professional Building Columbia, MO 65211

ysato@mail.missouri.edu
<https://politicalscience.missouri.edu/people/sato>
Phone: +1 (573) 303-8188

Education University of Missouri

Ph.D., Political Science, 2021 (Expected).

- Concentrations: Comparative Politics (Popular Mobilization, Political Party, Latin American Politics), and Public Policy (Policy Making Process).

Kobe University (Japan)

M.A., Political Science, 2015.

- Thesis: “Determinants of Successful Participatory Institutions in Brazil”

B.S., Maritime Science and Technology, 2012.

Academic Trainings

- ICPSR Summer Program in Quantitative Methods of Social Research (University of Michigan), June-July 2018.
Courses: Bayesian Modeling of Social Science I and Applied Multilevel Modeling
- CIEE Summer Language School (Salvador, Brazil), July 2017.
- Visiting Scholar, University of Brasília (Brasília, Brazil), April 2013-March 2014.
- IPSA Summer School in Concepts, Methods and Techniques in Political Science and International Relations (São Paulo, Brazil), February 2014.
Course: Process Tracing Case Study Methods

Research Publications

- Transformation of Democracy and the Role of Civil Society: the Experience of Participatory Institutions in Brazil. Tokyo: Fukyosha, 2016 (Japanese).
- “Determinants of Successful Participatory Institutions in Brazil.” Journal of the Japan Society of Social Science on Latin America 49 (2015): 39-60.

Conference Presentations

- “Oppositional Mobilization and Presidential Fall in Latin America.” Presented at the Annual Conference of the Latin American Studies Association, Barcelona, May 23-26, 2018.
- “Elite Coordination and Popular Protest: The Joint Effect on Democratic Change.” Presented at the Annual Conference of the Midwest Political Science Association, Chicago, April 5-8, 2018 (with Michael Wahman).
- “Popular Mobilization and Oppositional Coalition in Democratic Reform.” Presented at the Annual Conference of the Japan Association for Comparative Politics, Tokyo, June 17-18, 2017.

Teaching	Graduate School of International Cooperation Studies, Kobe University
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Teaching Assistant, Quantitative Analysis in Political Science, Spring 2016. • Teaching Assistant, Special Lecture on Political and Social Development, Fall 2015.
Awards and Support	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Department Support for ICPSR Attendance, University of Missouri, 2018. • Yarwood Award, Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri, 2018. • Supplemental Graduate Fellowship (US$1,000), Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri, Summer 2017. • Robin Remington Award, Department of Political Science at the University of Missouri, 2017. • Keidanren Ishizaka Memorial Foundation Scholarship (US$57,300), 2016. • K. Matsushita International Scholarship (US$21,000), 2013.
Languages and Skills	Japanese (native), English (fluent), Portuguese (intermediate) R, Stata, \LaTeX
Fieldworks	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Brazil (2013-2014): conducted interviews with government officials, academics, NGO organizers, and participants of the participatory conferences. • Philippines (2012): conducted interviews with staffs and customers of the microfinance organization, government officials, and researchers of the Asian Development Bank.
References	Moisés Arce (chair) Professor and Department Chair Political Science Department, University of Missouri arcem@missouri.edu Jake Haselswerdt Assistant Professor Political Science Department and Truman School of Public Affairs, University of Missouri haselswerdtj@missouri.edu Michael Wahman Assistant Professor Department of Political Science, Michigan State University wahmanmi@msu.edu	Laron K. Williams Associate Professor Political Science Department, University of Missouri williamslaro@missouri.edu Jack A. Draper III Associate Professor Department of Romance Languages and Literatures, University of Missouri draperj@missouri.edu

Last updated: September 24, 2018